

674,472 Edublogs & counting!

☒ Remember me Forgot password?

- Home
- Why Edublogs?
- Help & support
- Community
- About
- Contact

Blogging for teachers and students, made easy ...find out more

How to insert links in your post

by Sue Waters on July 29, 2009 - Comments Off

Linking to articles, websites or other blogger's post when you write about them is an important part of blogging. Your readers want to be able to easily check out the information without needing to Google. Failure to link is a common mistake of all new bloggers!

It's good blogging etiquette to link to:

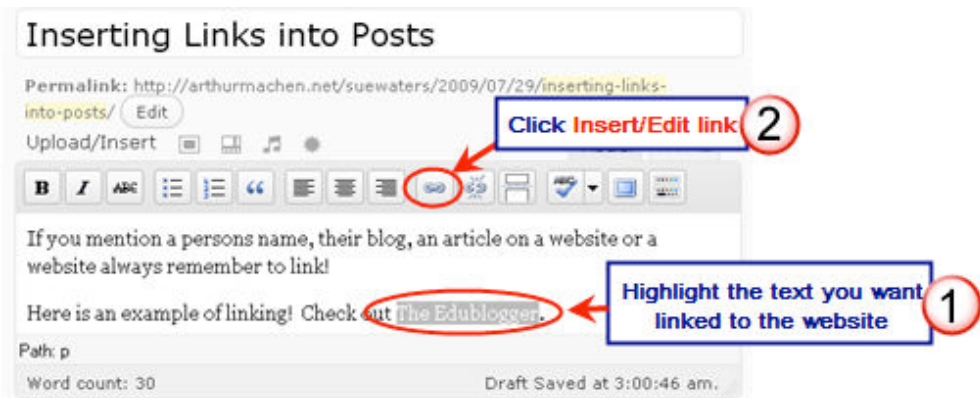

1. A person's blog if you mention a blogger
2. The post if you are talking about a particular post on a blog
3. Website or article if mentioned in your post

How To Create A Link

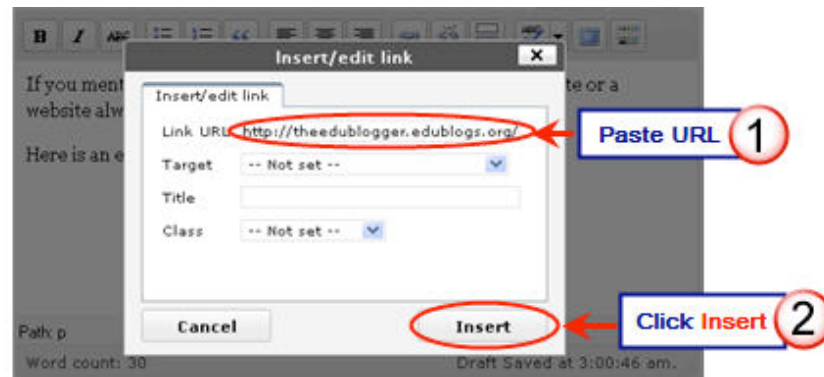

1. Copy the URL of the website you want to link to.

Insert/Edit Link button.

3. Paste the URL into Link URL and then click INSERT.

4. When you view your blog you should now see the text is now linked in your blog post.

Filed under: Working with posts and pages

Tags: Insert/Edit Link, Link

Sorry, the comment form is closed at this time.

«Writing Your First Post
Inserting Images into your Posts»

• Search for:

• Edublogs Help & Support